

Let the cannabis experts handle your license applications

The "Green Rush" in the cannabis industry presents a huge money-making opportunity for ancillary service providers. But researching the ever-changing maze of regulation and red tape around the industry is a big barrier to working with cannabis clients.

If you want to differentiate yourself from your competition, you need a team of cannabis experts behind you whose demonstrated expertise and success in cannabis you can market and label along with your own.

Differentiate by leveraging Highroad's success as your own

The great news is you can offer Highroad's unique blend of traditional business acumen and cannabis expertise as your own, executed by a team that knows how to win and has the pedigree and success rate to prove it.

What you can claim with Highroad on your team:

- 100% win rate on 45 licenses in four states over five years
- Won 12 licenses in highly competitive cannabis application processes
- Authored and submitted a high-scoring application for a retail operation in Nevada
- Expert staff
 - Three JDs who focus on cannabis regulatory compliance
 - Over 40 years of executive experience in the highly regulated banking and payments industries
 - Subject matter experts in biochemistry, security, technology, government relations, marketing, human resources and finance

Let us design a solution that meets your needs and sets your clients up for success. Call us at (760) 671-5647 or email us at info@highroadcg.com.
